

How to...

Re-design your bedroom

Every room will have a focal point and for a bedroom this will generally be the bed, as this is the largest piece of furniture within the space.

Before you get started it is often helpful to hit the magazines and even Pinterest, creating an idea on what you want to achieve within the room.

I have an emotional attraction to colour, therefore incorporating this accessible design tool will instantly enhance and harmonise any design scheme. I LOVE working with paint and this will modernise a room with the use of on-trend colours.

Whether you are using paint as a background colour, keeping the palette organic and neutral in tone, to create a restful space. Or dramatizing the bedroom with the use of gorgeous rich colours, to make the space uniquely yours.

We are currently seeing a trend, with the use of Dark Victorian colour schemes featured on our wall's and bed linen and no better place than in a bedroom. Whether it's painting a feature wall, incorporating Wallpaper or changing the linen, scatter cushions and adding a throw, this will certainly transform the space.

When addressing your colour palette, I normally work with 3 ascent colours. The surrounding walls, flooring and window treatments may be tones incorporating a neutral & organic palette, making it easy to add a pop of colour.

A headboard is a great way to incorporate an ascent colour and at the same time adding balance and grandeur to the bedroom furniture. There is a great and affordable array of headboard available on the market and may be upholstered in a Linen or velvet fabric, both creating a stunning look.

Now it's time to create your bedroom design scheme. Good luck, have fun & be BRAVE with colour, prints and patterns.
